Chamber of Commerce Bill Modified and Reported by Committee,

the House, the Committee on Roads and Internal Navigation heard argument on the Mentague bill permitting ment on the Montague out persection claims against railroads of loss than $300 to be proven by affidavits instead of requiring depositions. The bill was asked for by the Richmond Chamber of Commerce in the interest of merichants who have small claims against the roads for loss or damage in ship-Give Ear

The committee amended the bill so is to make it apply only to claims of lot more than $25, and then reported t. As originally proposed it would have affected all claims which can be recorded before a claim as a sixth of Coffee and Tea brought before magistrates or civil jus-tices, which would have made the timit $300.

The bill introduced in the House of Delegates yesterday by Colonet John S. Harwood looks to the consummation of the plan to consolidate the medical department of the University of Virginia, as recommended by the State Education Commission. Both institutions now receive aid from the public fund, and this situation is regarded as abnormal. Besidez, the location of a medical school in a town the size of Charlottswille is generally criticized. It is provided in the Harwood measure that the two schools may be merged at any time the rector and visitors of the onlyersity and the visitors of the college may agree and decide upon a plan. The control would pass to the university management. Any part of the course may be given in Richmond if desired, and such use of the property of the Medical College of Virginia may be made as the power that be see it.

Further, any private medical school could be absorbed in the same way, in case the University College of Medicine should decide to be taken in. There is nothing mandatory in the Harwood bill.
